God is mercy unlimited— that is for those who are ready to turn from their sin to seek his love. Today's readings remind us that it is not God who limits his love. It is either our complacency or our fear which refuses to trust in so great a love

Lismaconly Cemetary has again entered this years competition for the best kept Cemetary in Co. Carlow for 2010. The Cemetary which will celebrate 100 years in two years time, is looking well at the moment, thanks to all the people who look after their graves. However it will need an extra push if the cemetary is to win first prize. There are a number of graves that have caved in after many years, and needs attention, some graves have no one belonging to them left, and holes have appeared making them dangerous if people walk on them. The graveyard has been sprayed and some of the dead weeds need to be removed

Work needed to be done.

The green grass on the path ways edged neat and straight.

Brush or blow and clean dirt from between coping stones.

A small few coping stones need to be lifted and levelled.

Rake paths and all around by boundary wall.

Fill up the holes in the unmarked graves and spread a small bit of hayseed.

Calvary also needs attention cleaning and painting.

Paint gate.

Many people feel a few seats at different locations would add to the graveyard we will ask the Co. Council about this, also a couple of local people have expressed a wish to donate seats.

Many people would like to see a nice plaque remembering all the Holy Innocence that are buried in Lismaconly Cemetary.

As judging is from June to September and three visits unannounced by the judges it is important that have the Graveyard looking well at all times.

We would welcome voluntarily help from people on Tuesday June 6th starting at 7-00 pm for a couple of hours bring a few tools, spade, shovel, rakes sweeping brush etc.

If any person needs a grave cleaned or attended to contact Tommy Murphy 087 6256028

We remember in our prayers those who have died recently
